New Albany Women's Network Introduces 2018-19 Board Members

Creating a Strong Community

New Albany, Ohio - The New Albany Women's Network is pleased to announce its new Board for 2018-19. The new Board was elected at the organization's annual meeting and their term of office began this summer.

President Kristen Hamrick shared "I feel fortunate to work alongside such a strong group of women, who share my love of and commitment to our New Albany community. While NAWN has given generously since its beginning, our incoming Board is very committed to connecting with and serving our community even more. We're working to ensure members have several ways to give back by volunteering and/or donating services, or funds to help organizations, families and individuals in our community."
